

Clients, scheduling, notes, and billing, in one place your whole team can use.

Most care management practices run on paper, spreadsheets, a shared calendar, and an accounting package. Nothing connects, so the office re-keys, and the people doing the visits are not in the system at all.

Seniorverse Care Coordinator puts the whole practice in one system, with a mobile app for the care managers in the field.

WHO IT'S FOR

Care management agencies and independent care managers who bill for their time: an office that schedules, documents, and bills, and care managers in the field.

WHAT'S INCLUDED

Client records

Contacts, care team, medications, documents, and history for every client, reachable by your whole team from anywhere.

Visits in the mobile app

See today's visits, check in and out, and record the visit if the client agrees. The note is drafted from the recording, and the time is already logged.

Schedule, tasks, and messages

One calendar for the office and the field, tasks that carry the follow-up, and team messaging that lands in the client record.

Time to billing

Every logged hour lands in billing review with its rate. Review, lock the period, invoice your clients, and collect payment.

Forms, documents, and reports

Assessments and agreements with signatures, client documents in folders, and reports on hours, clients, and billing.
